

SIDDUR MOSHIACH — MINCHAH

Meditations on the Revealed Glory

---

In the Messianic Age, what was once hidden is now revealed. The Divine Glory, once perceived through veils and barriers, now shines openly before our consciousness. These meditations guide us to fully absorb and integrate this revelation, not as something external to ourselves, but as the very fabric of our being and the foundation of all existence.

The Omnipresent Light

Pause and perceive: The light of Ein Sof illuminates all existence without exception. No corner of creation remains untouched by this radiance. What once appeared as darkness was merely our limited perception. Now we see that even what seemed void was always filled with Divine presence. Contemplate: I do not enter into light; I recognize the light that has always been here.

The Transparency of Form

All forms—physical, emotional, mental—are now recognized as vessels of light. The solidity that once seemed to separate us from our Source is revealed as a unique expression of that very Source. Matter itself is perceived as condensed Divine energy, A love letter written in the language of physicality. Contemplate: Every atom of my being is transparent to the light of Ein Sof.

The Unity of All Perception

Every sense perception is now recognized as contact with Divinity. What I see is Ein Sof seeing through my eyes. What I hear is Ein Sof listening through my ears. What I touch is Ein Sof meeting itself through my hands. All experience is communion with the One. Contemplate: My entire perceptual field is the face of the Divine gazing at itself.

The Stillness Within Movement

All motion in creation is revealed as the dance of Ein Sof. The beating of hearts, the orbiting of planets, The flow of thoughts, the passage of time— All are expressions of the single Will that animates existence. In this revelation, we find perfect stillness at the center of all movement. Contemplate: I rest in the unchanging essence while participating in eternal becoming.

The Wholeness Beyond Parts

What once appeared as fragments and divisions Is now perceived in its essential wholeness. Each apparent part contains and reflects the whole. No being exists in isolation; all are interconnected expressions Of the singular reality that encompasses and transcends all diversity. Contemplate: In each particular manifestation, I perceive the infinite totality.

The Love That Sustains Existence

The force that maintains all creation is now clearly perceived as love. Not as a sentiment or emotion, but as the fundamental energy That binds, sustains, and continuously creates all that is. This love is the very substance of existence, The medium in which we live, move, and have our being. Contemplate: I am sustained moment by moment by infinite, unconditional love.—

As you engage with these meditations, remember that they are not meant to create what is absent, but to align your awareness with what is eternally present. The glory of Ein Sof is not something to be achieved but to be recognized as the ever-present reality of all existence. In this recognition, we participate consciously in the divine self-awareness that is the essence of the Messianic Age.
